SNOWSHOE WORKSHOP

February 24, 2018

Moose Creek Cabin near Helena

What should I bring?

- Bring your snowshoes if you have them. If you don't have snowshoes you can borrow a pair from us.
- Wear warm winter clothes and dress in layers. Don't forget your hat.
- Footwear should be sturdy snow boots or insulated hiking or hunting boots. Bring what you have, we'll make it work for this short walk.
- Some people find it helpful to use ski or hiking poles while snowshoeing – bring them if you have them.

BOW will provide:

- Snowshoes for those who need to borrow a pair.
- Coffee, tea and water in the cozy cabin.

Beginner Class

The beginner/novice snowshoe class is Saturday morning from 9:00am to noon. You'll learn about the different types of snowshoes and their benefits. The class will take a stroll through the forest to practice walking, and learn to travel up-hill and down-hill on snowshoes.

Registration Fee: $5

Beyond BOW workshops provide opportunities to learn outdoors skills. Workshops are designed especially for women and are an extension of the Becoming an Outdoors-Woman program sponsored by FWP.

If you can walk . . .
you can snowshoe!

Intermediate Class

The intermediate class is Saturday afternoon from 1:00pm to 4:00pm. This class is for people who have previous snowshoe experience and don't need help putting on their snowshoes. We'll take a longer walk in the forest with less instruction than the beginner class.

The historic Moose Creek Cabin is about 14 miles west of Helena. The cabin is equipped with a propane cook stove, wood stove and outhouse.
